You are cordially invited by members of Congress on October 26th to a press conference to discuss growing support for the Promising Pathway Act and patients' access to promising, effective therapies.

Sen. Braun, along with Sen. Gillibrand, Rep. Gallagher, and Rep. Quigley, will be hosting a press conference on Capitol Hill where they will host members of rare and progressive disease communities to discuss growing support for the Promising Pathway Act in Congress, industry, and amongst advocacy groups. The hosts will give a platform to members of the community to communicate the importance of increased access to promising therapies.

The Promising Pathway Act would create a new drug approval pathway for drugs intended to treat diseases that have few therapies and that leave patients with limited time.
